3.4 SECTION HEADINGS

A maximum of 3 level headings should be used. Every word in a heading must be capitalized except for prepositions and conjunctions.

3.4.1 First Order Heading:

3.5 FIGURES AND TABLES

Each table should have its own short title above the table and right after the number of the table. Tables are numbered consecutively from the beginning of the article using Arabic numerals. In general, tables should fit within one column of the two-column format. However, it is acceptable on occasions, to make the table cover the entire width of the page.

Figures include pictures, drawings and graphs of the article. Just like tables, figures are numbered sequentially using Arabic numerals. However, the titles for figures are BELOW the figure (unlike tables). Figures may also be of such a size that they cannot fit within a column of the two-column format. If that is the case, then the figure may spread across the page. Figures should appear within the body of the article in close proximity to the text that is referred to.

Clearly label all graphs with proper units, axes titles, and scales. Check that the resolution is adequate to reveal the important detail in the figure. Please check your paper on a black and white hardcopy and ensure that the images used are clear and all text labels are legible.

Captions of a single line must be centered whereas multi-line captions must be justified.

Note:

- A copy of tables and figures which are used has to be sent separately along with the soft copy of the manuscript (with figures and tables).
- All the figures must be in either Grayscale or Black & White (preferably) for the printed version. However, it does not concern for e-journals.

3.6 EQUATIONS

If you are using Microsoft Word, use Microsoft Equation Editor for equations in your paper. The equations must be centre aligned. Number equations consecutively with equation numbers in parentheses flush with the right margin, as in Eq.(1)

$$c = a + b. \quad (1)$$

Be sure that the symbols in your equation have been defined before the equation appears or immediately following. Italicize Roman symbols for quantities and variables, but not Greek symbols. Use parentheses to avoid ambiguities in denominators.

3.7 CITATIONS

All sources cited in the text must be listed in the References. References are sequentially numbered as they appear in the article. Reference numbers are indicated in square brackets. When referring to a reference item, enclose the citation number in square brackets, for example [1]. Multiple references are each numbered with separate brackets, for example [3], [5] and in case of series references [2]–[7]. Types of references are as follows:

- For a journal article, refer [1]
- For a book, refer [2]
- For a conference paper, refer [3]
- For a thesis, refer [4]
- For a technical report, refer [5]
- For an online source, refer [6]
- For a patent, refer [7]
- For a magazine article, refer [8]

4. CONCLUSION

A conclusion might elaborate on the importance of the work or suggest applications and extensions. Authors are requested to ensure that best efforts are made to retain the appearance of their manuscripts in the given template. Papers not in accordance with these guide lines and manuscripts with number of mistakes will have to be rejected. The editorial committee may make some limited changes in the manuscript if needed.

APPENDIX (12pt bold)

Appendixes, if needed, appear before the acknowledgement.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT (12 pt bold)

The heading of this section must not be numbered. You may wish to thank those who have supported you and your work.

REFERENCES (12 pt bold)

Within the text, references should be cited by giving the last name of the author(s) and numbered consecutively starting with [1], i.e: “Some results from the experiment were given by Wijaya and Riyanto in [1], Wijaya, et.al in [2], Majerski and Przybylo in [3], Nurdin, et al. in [4] and [5].”

Note that in the case of three or more authors, only the last name of the first author is cited and the others are denoted by et al. The same rule is also held for the header title on even pages.

Within the Reference chapter, use the same typeface as the body of the text for the references, or just find Reference in Styles Windows. In References chapter you should write based on the order of appearances, not alphabetically.
